THE MARCH OF DIMES DRIVE IS ON AGAIN

The March of Dimes Drive is on again, and this year the effort is launched with greater hopefulness than ever before. Only two months ago, Basil O'Connor, National Foundation head, announced that progress toward the development of a vaccine to prevent polio was definitely on the way to perfection.

This comes as welcome news to a nation in which polio has each summer stricken thousands of unsuspecting citizens, sometimes proving fatal and in other cases leaving victims crippled for life. This disease has struck annually for many decades and has, until this time, defied all the powers of the medical profession.

A contribution to the March of Dimes is a contribution to a cause which takes second place to none and since the money donated by Americans in recent years has paid off in concrete results, which are now on the verge of producing a vaccine, the incentive should be all the greater.

The Hancock County Eagle cannot endorse the latest March of Dimes Drive too highly. We urge every reader to examine his own personal situation and do his best in this humanitarian effort.

Texas Beauty Chosen 1952 "Maid of Cotton"

Memphis, Tenn.—A poised young lady from Texas, Patricia Ann Mulliken, of Dallas, won America's most genteel beauty contest.

Pat, who was Southern Methodist's homecoming queen, is the new "Maid of Cotton." Eighteen other contestants from 12 states competed.

The contest, notable for its lack of what photographers call "cheese," was played before a full house of invitation-only spectators.

To make it a one-two Texas punch, the seven jurors named Lucaine Knight of Austin as first alternate maid. Betty Goosmann of Bolivar, Tenn. was picked as second alternate.

The prize won by the 20-year-old, blue-eyed brunette from SMU includes a six-month tour of major US cities, South America and several European countries.

A stunning wardrobe—all cotton, of course—goes with the title. And Pat will pick up the keys to a peppy convertible at the end of her tour.

Not a bathing beauty was in sight during the judging. The girls are graded on family background, poise, education, appearance and personality.

It will cost the council and other sponsors—including the cotton exchanges of Memphis, New Orleans and New York more than $25,000 to send Patricia on her tour.

You can succeed in your work despite bad judgment, a quality everyone possesses in some degree.

TOURIST BUSINESS IS PROVING BOON TO "HOSPITALITY STATE"

The carter tourist who dropped an estimated $222,000,000 into state cash registers in 1950 is hitting the Magnolia-scented trail to Mississippi in rapidly increasing numbers, recent surveys show.

A traffic survey, made by the State Highway Department, showed that a total of 7,433,738 automobiles crossed the state line into Mississippi in 1950. A total of 4,338,072 of these were out-of-state cars, or possible tourists.

Vacation travel, according to the American Automobile Association, is now one of the major industries in the nation. The AAA estimates that Americans spent $10,000,000,000 on travel in 1950. Mississippi, according to Agricultural and Mechanical Board estimates, got a $22,010,466 out of this juicy travel pie, compared with but $39,352,500 in 1944 before the state started promoting tourist business in a big way.

Mississippi's travel industry now ranks third only to manufacturing and agriculture in economic returns, according to A. E. Taylor, Jr., manager of the Board's travel department. Taylor says that many individual communities, as well as other states, have come to recognize that travel dollars frequently mean the difference between profit and loss in the operation of their business enterprises.

"Travel expenditures," he said, "find their way into a wide variety of retail enterprises, hotels, motor courts, gasoline stations, restaurants, department stores, drug counters, sporting goods shops, and almost every conceivable type of business is nourished by the travel dollar."

Hotel receipts, by the way of example, have jumped from $12,800,000 in 1948 to $17,700,000 in 1950. A 39 per cent gain for the year.

One of the reasons for the increase in Gulf Coast hotel receipts is that the Mississippi River has been a major factor in the state's tourist business.

This 30-foot exhibit depicting Mississippi's tourist attractions was witnessed by thousands of persons last year at travel shows in St. Louis, Detroit, Des Moines and at the Mid-South Fair in Memphis. It will be shown this Spring in Detroit, Milwaukee, Chicago and Dallas.

It is expected to draw the attention of several hundred thousand travel-minded persons attending.

mon on the scenic, historic and recreational points of interest.

In addition, the Travel Department has placed exhibits in travel shows throughout the nation and an estimated 783,000 persons have been exposed to this type of promotion during the past two years.

Other exhibits at conventions, fairs, prominent big city show windows, and at airline terminals have attracted the attention of thousands to the state's tourist attractions.

With tourist business growing by leaps and bounds in recent years, the Board also has succeeded in procuring "unusually" favorable treatment in the annual "Hospitality Month" observance and through "Hospitality Clinics."

The increased interest created by these observances has resulted in the scheduling of many more special events of interest to the tourist, such as boat and river pilgrimages, guided tours, country fairs, and other events of that nature.

Altogether, Mississippi's Gulf Coast has been a major factor in the state's tourist business.

The Oil and Gas Industry Spends
$160,000,000 EVERY DAY
in Mississippi

Last year, the growing oil and gas industry put more than $160 million into circulation in Mississippi—over $160,000 every day of the year. These funds are making the cash registers of every business up and down the state.

An annual oil and gas payroll of $15 million for 5,000 Mississippi employees buys food, housing, and other family needs. Another $12 million goes to 25,000 royalty and owners in many parts of the state. These payments mean increased income opportunities for every Mississippi family.

The $10 million paid last year in Mississippi for the oil and gas industry helped support schools, hospitals, and other useful activities of local and state governments.

HOW TO GET A Representative on YOUR SIDE

...the board of the male members of the class of 1952, a score of 70 or better on the Selective Service College Qualification Test may be considered by their local board for deferment. The law provides, however, that local boards are not required to defer men who meet one or both of the criteria. This is still discretionary on the part of the board. General Hersey pointed out that students meeting either or both criteria will be deferred.

Students who meet one or both of the criteria for deferment have a right of appeal if their local board does not defer them. General Hersey reminded the students. The law provides that a student may appeal to the state appeal board within 10 days from the date the local board mails the notice that they have placed him in Class I-A. There is no particular form for taking an appeal, General Hersey explained. A letter to the local board setting forth the student's name and selective service number being all that is necessary. If the state appeal board sustains the local board but it is a split decision, General Hersey pointed out, the student then has a right to appeal to the National Selective Service Appeal Board. An appeal to the National Board is taken in the same manner as an appeal to the State Board, General Hersey explained. All that is necessary is another letter to the local board.

Many students have been confused, General Hersey observed, in distinguishing between the I-S and I-I-S deferments. The I-S deferment is considered on the basis of class standing or qualification test and is discretionary on the part of the local board, General Hersey explained. It may be granted by the local board each successive year, thus enabling students who meet the criteria to complete their education. ### NEWS FROM LOCAL BOY IN JAPAN

We reprint in part below a letter from Louis McGabgab, local boy in Japan, to Mrs. C. B. Penrose, telling how his time in the service is spent.

The letter comes from Yokohama, Japan, aboard the transport USS Cape Esperance (CVE-98), and reads as follows:

"My ship is a transport and we make runs between Frisco and the Orient. We brought over 500 Seiber Japs, along with their pilots and crew this time. Then we'll take back a load of wrecked planes for repairs.

"We're always on the move and in the States quite frequently, so I don't mind it at all.

"This trip we went past some interesting things, such as a large group of big blue Tuna rigging anywhere from 3 to 6 feet in length; also two whales passed just 200 yards off our bow. We also hit a large storm on the way over that turned our chow hall up side down, so they took all the benches out and made the men eat on the floor picnic style. It was really a sight.

"Well, I must close for now as it's about 10:30, so thanks again for your most gracious thought.

Sincerely yours,
Louis"

MOTHER SINGER GROUP TO BE ORGANIZED BY BAY HIGH P-T A

Mrs. John Huband, program chairman of the Bay High P-T-A, has announced that a mother singer group is to be organized in the near future. It is hoped that at least twenty voices will blend for music, fun and entertainment under the direction of Mr. James Hunt, with Mrs. Carl Smith as accompanist. The group will perform for the local P-T-A, as well as complete the state-wide Mother Singer Group contest to be held in the spring. Any one interested in joining the group is asked to contact Mrs. Huband.

have never before received a student deferment or postponement to complete their current academic year.

A student who receives a I-S deferment until the end of his current academic year may in some instances receive a I-I-S deferment for the next year, General Hersey revealed. If during the academic year his work was such that he is in the prescribed upper portion of his class, or if he takes the Selective Service Qualification Test and makes a score of 70 or better, the local board can consider him for a I-I-S deferment for the following academic year.

Local boards generally determine during the summer months to whom I-I-S deferments shall be granted for the next academic year. In making their determination they consider the student's class standing for the previous academic year as furnished by the school on selective service Form 102. For example, a freshman with a I-S deferment may General Hersey pointed out, keep his class work to a point where he is in the prescribed upper portion of his class at the end of that academic year or during the year take the College Qualification Test so that he thereby becomes eligible for consideration for a I-I-S deferment for the next year.

Whether a man is classified I-S or I-I-S is a deferred classification and not a postponement of induction, General Hersey pointed out. At the end of the academic year, the local board must decide the classification and whether he qualifies for any classification other than I-A. Following the board the local board is responsible for the case, the student has the right to be deferred for another year.

Not Too Late

It's not too late to answer the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal letter, stated Dr. Robert E. Schwartz of the Mississippi Tuberculosis Association. "Contributions have been received from a large number of the persons receiving Christmas Seals, but there are still many persons throughout Hancock County who haven't answered their letter."

"To date, a total of $393 has been received from Hancock County, and this response is very gratifying. But we need those extra dollars so that our tuberculosis program can be expanded during the coming year."

The disease, Tuberculosis, is the number one public health problem confronting us today, and today is when something should be done to fight back at this greatest killer of all time, Tuberculosis.

There are many who believe that the war is over and that the world is at peace. But the war is not over and the world is not at peace. The war is still going on and the world is still at war. The war is still going on and the world is still at war. The war is still going on and the world is still at war.

The first study group of the League of Women Voters of Bay St. Louis met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Carter to discuss and compare county and state government. An afternoon group is being formed by Mrs. E. P. Kirkpatrick and will meet at her home next week. These study groups are interesting and informative; those who attended the city government will remember how engrossing the discussions were. It is hoped that all members who are interested in knowing about their state and county will attend either the afternoon or evening meetings. For further information, and for transportation, call 506 or 682-M.

The Physical Education and Health Directors in the Bay St. Louis High School have completed their testing of the hearing of students from grades three through twelve. They tested 380 students with the following results: The first test showed 23% with defective hearing in one or the other ear. These students were rechecked and it was found that of the 380 students 14% showed defective hearing. These students will be re-checked by the Public Health Department in Hancock County and the parents notified and efforts will be made to correct this deficiency wherever possible. This is one of the health projects being carried out in the Bay St. Louis Public Schools during this year. Following six weeks tests this week, students will be examined for defective hearing.

VETERANS GIVE $263.27 TO THE C.R.A.

On Thursday night, January 3, a group of veterans of World War II met jointly with the Community Recreation Association in the assembly room of Valena C. Jones School; and the Veterans turned over to the C.R.A. $263.27 to be used toward developing a community playground on the campus of the public school. The sum turned in to the C.R.A. represented the net profit from the Holiday Ball sponsored by the Veterans New Year's night at the One Hundred Men Pavilion. Bedford C. Young, assistant principal of Valena C. Jones School, presented the C.R.A. officials and chairman of the veterans' temporary organization. In making the presentation he praised the veterans for their teamwork while sponsoring the dances and the C.R.A. for their attempt to provide "wholesome and supervised recreation for the Negro children of the community." "This," he added, "is a positive approach to the problem of juvenile delinquency."

Present to accept the donation for the C.R.A. were Mrs. Grace Pollock, president; Reginald Robinson, treasurer; and Mrs. Gwendolyn Iahem, playground worker. The veterans who were presented and spoke at the joint meeting included Harry Young, Harold Toulmon, Clarence Lewis and Clarence Wilkerson. Mrs. Pollock, president of the C.R.A., announced that the money received would be used for the immediate purchase of playground equipment.
